

To whom it may concern,

Greetings from the Taipei School of Economics and Political Science (TSE) at National Tsing Hua University (NTHU), Taiwan. This correspondence serves to introduce TSE and provide key information about our academic programs.

About TSE

Established in 2020 as the 10th college of NTHU, one of Taiwan's most esteemed and diverse universities, TSE provides a dynamic platform for future leaders seeking to drive impact in the economic, social, geopolitical, and semiconductor sectors. Our innovative postgraduate programs integrate political economy with political science, economics, international relations, history, management, and technology, equipping students to navigate and leverage the evolving global economic landscape towards Asia.

Highlights

- Official Language: English
- International Faculty and Diverse Student Body
- Interdisciplinary Approach: in both teaching and research
- Scholarship Opportunities:
 - TSE Scholarships: full tuition waiver and/or a monthly stipend
 - Ministry of Education (MOE) Scholarship eligibility
 - Fulbright Scholarship eligibility for U.S. citizens pursuing the Master's Program

Programs

- Master's Program (2 years): Specializations in Asian Political Economy, Global Political Economy, and Economic Development.
- Doctoral Program: Specializations in Political Science and Economics.

Admission Period

Applications for the 2025 admission are open from September 2, 2024, to April 25, 2025.

No Application Fee: A single application covers both admission and scholarship consideration.

Sincerely,

Taipei School of Economics and Political Science
National Tsing Hua University