ABOUT

INTRODUCTION

To promote connectivity, strengthen human resource development and increase awareness and understanding of regional issues, the project aims to invite regional youth to participate in a two-day Model APEC training program. The program will gather stakeholders, policymakers, government officials and experts who work or had worked in APEC related sectors to share with the regional youth regarding how APEC, as a cross-regional community, operates, and the critical issues and challenges that the region is currently facing.

A Model APEC conference is organized for the young participants to learn more about how issues are discussed in a regional economic forum, and how to present and voice their opinions in an official setting.
